Dear Technology Entrepreneurship Part 1 participants,

Congrats on finishing the assignments that are due today (Feb. 8th).

The next assignment is the final Opportunity Analysis Project (<https://novloed.com/venture1-2015-1/exercises/26983>) and is due Feb. 15th. Don't forget that your peer evaluations for the low-fidelity prototype and test your value proposition with potential customers are due Feb. 13th and 15th respectively.

I want to recognize a few of the people who have been putting in a lot of effort making the TE course better and adding a lot of value in the forums. A big thanks to Paulo Machado and also Waleed Dirani! Thanks so much for helping to support the course.

I also want to thank Benson Yeung and Greg Jorgensen who I know have been mentoring a lot of teams in this course and previous iterations of the course.

The next video lectures are on entrepreneurship in emerging economies.

Part 2 of the course will start in mid-April (April 13th) so be on the lookout for that.

Finally, I want to point out the new Twitter handle and encourage you to follow along here:
