Hi Karen,

Welcome to Stanford Technology Entrepreneurship MOOC's chat. In the next 24hrs you will receive an invitation to this address and will be able to access the chat through your web browser at the following address:

<https://techentrepreneurship.slack.com>

Watch out for the invite!

We encourage you keep this email, as well as to bookmark the chat room to easily find it back. You can also go to the Slack website and once logged in you will see "technology entrepreneurship" listed as a team you're member of.

Slack also offers an iOS and Android client that you can use to stay connected with the class on the go, enable notifications and never be left out of the conversation!

We're really excited about this opportunity and we're kicking this off with an AMA (ask me anything) event with the teaching Staff. On Monday March 16th at 2pm PST you will have an opportunity to chat live with Prof Eesley in the #lounge channel. The theme is startup advice and making progress with your venture.

If the time doesn't work stay tuned, we will run more events in the next weeks, but please do let us know through the chat help channel.

We look forward to chatting with you on Slack!

TE, teaching staff

PS: If you have any problems with Slack feel free to hit reply to this email any time or, once you're registered, use this support link to request assistance.
